Groove Coaster (グルーブコースター) is a music-rhythm action game with a the theme of classic 80's horror movies and the first in the series. If you enjoy the rhythm action genre, you will probably get hooked on the controls. If you enjoy the classic horror genre, you will find fun in the hidden imagery. For both this game makes use of classic 80's horror movies and many of them are in the theme. This includes the added fun aspect which adds music, music which will make even a machine-gun shooting spree less exciting. The music is made to a very high standard, in many cases the music is adapted from the soundtrack of the horror movies that are used in the game. If you enjoy classic horror movies, make sure to try out this game. With headphones on the music is nearly always very effective. About the sound design: The sounds you hear are made with a very high standard. Some of the sounds are from a synth which have been made from on a large number of samples from horror movies. If you enjoy the music please support the game developer in word or with a donation. Funny note: People who have the first version of the game can buy both in one version. Another funny note: The theme song (title song) of the game has been said to be intended to be played on a violin. "I really like violin music. In the future I hope to come up with a special script in which the violin sounds like we play in this game." - Toby Fox ===== Purchase the song for about 1 euro Toby Fox's music is from undertale. I do not own any of the music of Toby Fox. ----- It is necessary that this game works with a MIDI keyboard. You can purchase a MIDI keyboard that works with Windows 10 at ===== This comment has not been approved by the owner. ===== Hello my game, After the first update, this has received quite a lot of attention. So I decided to make a sequel. Not all of this content was in the previous version. The music was made by Toby Fox for music. You can listen to it at the above link ===== If you would like me to do more music for you, then you can support me c9d1549cdd

The file is in the game directoryThe file cannot be used for commercial purposesPlease read the readme file included with this pack to find out how to use this file Sound: All SFX have been updated This pack includes: - 1 Audio CD featuring 49 character songs. - All LP artwork with animation, and all character images. - Soundtrack and dialog from the game. - Three videos: of a gameplay session, of the Japanese voice casting session, and of the English dubbing session. - 1 readme file containing basic information about the pack's content.Project Summary/Abstract Age-related hearing loss (AHL) is the single most prevalent sensory deficit in the U.S. and worldwide. This insidious decline in the hearing ability of older adults that occurs with advancing age does not subside with advancing age. Rather, the deficit progresses during middle age and older. The loss of hearing in older adults due to AHL is one of the most common and disabling sensory losses in adults and it greatly impairs the ability to communicate. As such, progressive hearing loss significantly hampers the quality of life of millions of people in the U.S. and worldwide. In the U.S., the economic impact of speech and hearing disorders to the healthcare system is significant. According to the National Survey of Hearing loss [NAS], a better understanding of the pathophysiology of AHL can help identify potential interventions and prevention strategies to reduce AHL prevalence and improve the quality of life of older adults. The overall goal of this proposal is to gain a better understanding of the neural mechanisms that are responsible for the hearing loss observed in older adults. The research proposed in this grant application will specifically address the auditory cortex and its role in processing speech in older adults. The proposed experiments will test the hypothesis that progressive changes in the spontaneous firing of neurons in the auditory cortex in older adults are responsible for the increased hearing loss observed in older adults. Specifically, the spontaneous firing of neurons in the inferior colliculus will be used as a surrogate of the firing of neurons in the auditory cortex. The physiological changes will be observed using whole-cell patch clamp recordings of single neurons in brain slices prepared from guinea pigs. This work will provide insight into the general mechanisms that are responsible for AHL in older adults and will help improve the lives of millions of older adults. why the PTFE part of the double-bag system does not melt so fast.
