Q: If I create a "Standard User Account" at logon, can I add additional users to it? if I create a "Standard User Account" at logon, will I be able to add additional users to it? A: At logon, if you want to create a Standard User Account, then no - you will not be able to add additional users to it. You can, however, create additional Log on Account at logon and use those for a set of accounts instead. Here is a good article on this: Q: ng-click not working when ajax call is made I have a modal dialog which when opened, loads some content in an ajax call and updates the page. The issue I have is that when I open the dialog, everything works fine, the content loads in the dialog and on click of the on a button, the data-uri with which I was passing to the server along with other parameters works fine. But when I close the dialog and come back to the the page, i.e. the page is refreshed, the click events of the buttons are not working. I have tried all the variations possible but none have worked so far. The only way I can get it to work, is if I don't close the dialog and instead keep it open. EDIT: the loaded content is not local html but it's from a REST call. Here is my modal dialog: Add New Result Add a Result:
