I am working on google charts api to generate graphs. I tried to access the google api key on the android application, but it gives this error java.io.IOException: No current URL set. Is there any way to get this work on the android application? Thanks in advance. A: Try this System.setProperty("http.proxyUser", "test"); System.setProperty("http.proxyPassword", "test"); By this you can get the http authentication. And set the url that we require. You can use this url 6d1f23a050
